

My husband and I have nothing but positive things to say about our satellite radio service. We own a business in another county and we have the option of listening to music uninterrupted by commercials that, more often than not, increase the stress level. We also have the option of catching up on news and sports. Weather and traffic reports are another must as we commute from San Diego County to Orange County. It's also very helpful when we make road trips to Northern California and Nevada. We would appreciate the FCC allowing the continuation of our rights to receive these channels.
